

Dog Food Coupons: Keep Your Pooch Well Fed at a Reasonable Cost

Caring for your pet dog involves a lot of effort. The owner must not only look after his/her health, but also provide the dog with sufficient exercise and feed him/her properly. It involves an investment of considerable amount of money in dog food bills. Though purists may state that dogs can eat just about anything, having been forager in their ancestry, such an approach is not practical. While the owner must provide the sufficient natural meat and roughage, processed dog food is an acceptable alternative especially in an urban setting where time is a precious commodity. There are various brands of dog food available on the market and each one of them has some pluses and minuses.

Buying a complete dog menu, suited for your pet's health is becoming more and more difficult owing to the current price rises. This is where dog food coupons come in handy. Most stores, supermarkets or specialty animal product stores offer various schemes by which buying your pooch's favorite chow becomes a lot cheaper. These schemes offer discount coupons for buying a specified range of products or a specified quantity of products. Some manufacturers give their own coupons which are in addition to the coupons issued by the super market. For example, a dog food manufacturer may sponsor a $1 discount coupon as an advertising strategy. At the same time, a supermarket selling dog food may advertise a discount of $1 on every $15 worth of same dog food. Adding both the discounts, the customer can thus save $2 for the purchase. This may not sound as much of a savings but it all adds up.

Another method of saving loads of money is to buy dog food coupons advertised for items close to expiry date. The supermarket chains give attractive coupon benefits for such sales. The customer must however, choose with care as the marginal dates may make some items unfit for human and doggie consumption. Other schemes involve buying a set type of groceries in bulk which are discounted with coupons of all sorts including dog food coupons. Buying dog food coupons in adequate quantity over the Internet also provides attractive discounts. With every purchase of coupons, certain number of such coupons come free, or a certain quantum of them are made available. All such schemes have the inherent advantage of making the cost of food items and dog food items less costly. Using dog food coupons is undeniably a step in the right direction to reducing your pet food bill costs. See also Dog food comparison --
