

Submitting Your Blog

It is a modern art we all known to love. We all know how to blog and certain sites to blog, but we do not know about online directories that will take our blog. You are probably wondering what online directories are. Online directories are web based companies that take the blogs you submit and submit those blogs on thousands of different websites. Most people would not know where to begin to find a directory. It is easy and fast to find a directory and submit your blog. What are some of the benefits of submitting your blog to one of these directories. Well to start out, you get to have your blog, basically your point of view on a topic, submitted to thousands of different sites all over the internet. The online directory will save you time, they will submit your blog to different sites for you. They are also extremely cheap.

Most directories charge below a quarter per submission. So you can submit ten of your favorite blogs for less than three dollars. A lot of people tend to skip the directories and try to submit their blogs on as many sites as possible. You have to be careful, a lot of blog sites are free, and a lot charge fees for submissions, add up all the fees for submissions and you are spending more than you should. Online directories employ many people to do all the work for you, you do not have to go to individual sites, you do not have to pay all the submission fees, online directories are the all in one package. There is the obvious benefit of online directories, you get to have your blog on hundreds, if not, thousands of different websites. For under a quarter you get to have your blog viewed thousands upon thousands of times, Now your wondering where you find such directories? It is easy, will a simple search using your favorite search engine, you can choose from thousands of different directories. Just make sure you do your research, there are directories out there that claim to be legit, but are not legit at all. Just find the right one for you and start submitting your blog, remember, it costs cents to submit one. Be the famous blog writer you have seen in your dreams.

About the Author

For more info on submit my blog, see this link.

Source: <http://biglearn.net>